SPECIAL RUNNING OF THE COUNTERINTELLIGENCE OPERATIONS COURSE

DESCRIPTION

This course imparts an understanding of counterintelligence as both an intelligence and action discipline. Students examine current CI tactics and are introduced to analytic techniques and procedures at the field station and Headquarters levels. The course does not teach clandestine tradecraft nor security procedures but examines them as factors in the review and analysis of operational situations.

DESIGNED FOR

Primarily DDO officers whose assignments will involve CI responsibilities in the field or CI analytical support at Headquarters and such other officers from Security or OTS whose responsibilities require special instruction in this field.
